

“It is not often that a story about a disability is so well done... What an important message to convey to kids right now – Let’s help others, too.”

READERS’ FAVORITE

Ada and the Helpers

By Travis D. Peterson

Illustrations by Melissa Fischer

About the book

Ada is a dancing, deaf fox with cochlear implants who loves to help others. On her way to dance in a talent show one day, she meets three creatures who are each facing a physical challenge of their own. She decides to help each of her new friends to see past their challenges and discover their natural, God-given strengths. But can they help her in return? Ada’s a bit nervous about the talent show!

Will she be able to hear the music clearly?

Will everyone laugh at her?

Follow Ada and her new friends on an exciting new adventure that encourages friendship, inclusion, and self-esteem while also introducing the American Sign Language alphabet.

About the author

Travis D. Peterson was born and raised in Wilmington, North Carolina, a beautiful place in the United States where foxes and other woodland creatures roam the land and pirates sailed the seas. He and his wife, Anne Berit, now live in her hometown of Bergen, Norway. That’s another magical place in Europe where trolls roam the land and Vikings sailed the seas! Travis and Anne Berit have two bold and brave kids, Aiden and Esther. Esther also wears helpers on her head that help her to hear. Schedule Travis for virtual author visits by contacting him at travis@travisdpeterson.com.

Special Features

- 14 words spelled out using ASL throughout the story
- A dust jacket that reverses as an ASL alphabet chart over two feet tall (hardcover edition only)
- Introduces three of the six ling sounds used in the Ling Six Sound Test

Subjects: self-confidence, personal strengths, helping others, disabilities

Page Count: 32

Trim: 9×9 inches

Publish Date: February 2021

Hardcover Format*: 978-82-692196-0-9

Price: $17.95

Softcover Format: 978-82-692196-1-6

Price: $12.95

Wholesale orders: Retailers, schools, churches and other nonprofits can register for a wholesaler account at the website below for a 40% discount.

Hardcover format features a double-sided dust jacket that reverses as an ASL alphabet chart over two feet tall!

ORDER YOUR COPIES NOW AT ADASFRIENDS.COM!

*Hardcover only available from the publisher at adasfriends.com or Amazon.

Softcover available wherever books are sold.

launch mission publishing™